NORTHWEST GETS READY TO REPEL I. W. W. INVASION

Members of American Legion Sworn In As Deputy Sheriffs

TO JAIL ALL SUSPECTS

Los Angeles Ex-Soldiers Wreck I. W. W. Headquarters; Raids in San Francisco

(By the Associated Press.)
Spokane, Wash., Nov. 14.—Members of the American Legion here were being sworn in as special policemen this evening to meet what was declared to be an invasion of 1,000 to 2,000 members of the Industrial Workers of the World due to arrive here tonight from Montana and other parts of the Northwest.
Arrangements were in progress with officers at Fort George Wright here for arms and ammunition for American Legion deputy sheriffs who were to be held in readiness for immediate action. Major Thomas G. Aston, commander of a battalion of the national guard, announced that he had telegraphed Adjutant General Moss recommending that the two local companies of guardsmen be mobilized.

To Arrest All I. W. W. Suspects

All I. W. W. suspects are to be arrested, according to an agreement reached at a conference here late today between police officials and officers of the American Legion.

Legion officers told officials they had received what they considered authentic reports that I. W. W. are enroute here. All incoming trains, they said, are loaded with members of the organization and reports have been received from lumber camps in this region that I. W. W. are leaving their jobs to go to Spokane.

Despite efforts to discount reports of the invasion, officers of the legion maintained stoutly that their information was from reliable sources.

Soldiers Threatened With Death

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 14.—Renewed activity by both factions today marked the fight in the northwest of government agents against the Industrial Workers of the World. The establishment of the Seattle Union Record was seized for the second time in 24 hours and the American Legion in Spokane received a letter in which eight local members of the organization were threatened with the fate of former soldiers killed at Centuria, Washington, Tuesday. The plant of the newspaper was seized this afternoon by John M. Boyle, United States marshal, and publication stopped.

"My office," said Mr. Boyle late today, received instructions to seize the entire plant and keep possession of it indefinitely."

E. B. Ault, editor of The Record, and two members of the paper's board of directors, are at liberty under bonds on charges of violating the espionage act.

The threatening letter, purported to be signed by an official of the I. W. W., was mailed in Spokane yesterday, it said in part:

"For the past two or three months the Spokane chapter of the I. W. W. has been watching the activities of several leaders of the American Legion. You have taken an open stand against the I. W. W. Allow me to state at this time that the American Legion in Spokane is doomed and will be curbed by the working classes. Our members have instructed me to write you at this time notifying you that unless the following men discontinue to create hatred against the I. W. W. of Spokane that they will follow in the footsteps of the marked ones in Centuria."

Then followed the names of nine men, all overseas veterans but two, and all active in affairs of the American Legion.

Murder Charges Against I. W. W.

Centuria, Wash., Nov. 14.—Arrangements were made today to file murder charges against 11 men, 10 of whom have been arrested, following the attack by alleged members of the Industrial Workers of the World in the Armistice day parade, which resulted in the death of four former service men. Public memorial services for the four victims of the shooting were held today under the auspices of the American Legion.

Search was continued in nearby towns for 16 alleged Industrial Workers of the World who were reported to be enroute to Centuria bearing arms.

Failure of the coroner's jury to fix responsibility for the death of the four former soldiers, C. D. Cunningham, assistant county attorney, declared, would not affect the cases of the I. W. W. held in jail. He said the prosecution had witnesses who were in the front ranks of the parade and who insist shots were fired from the I. W. W. hall before any of the members started toward the building. Dr. Frank J. Blackford testified at

HANDLEY-PAGE FORCED TO LAND DUE TO COLD

Express-Carrying Airplane Hopes To Continue Flight To Chicago Today

New York, Nov. 14.—The Handley-Page airplane which started early today from Mineola on what was intended to be a non-stop flight to Chicago, descended at Mount Jewett, Pa., this afternoon, according to a message received here tonight by Dr. Miller Reese Hutchinson. Intense cold in the upper levels of the air forced the landing, the telegram said.

Plane Passes Binghamton

Binghamton, Nov. 14.—A large airplane, believed to have been the Handley-Page plane, carrying express from New York to Chicago, passed northeast of this city shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. The plane was flying high and apparently traveling very fast. The machine had apparently been following the Susquehanna river and then, when some distance east of the city, had shifted to a northwesterly course, evidently with the object of striking the New York Central route in the vicinity of Rochester.

"PUSSYFOOT" JOHNSON THE TALK OF ENGLAND

Newspapers Commend American Prohibitionist's Attitude; Call Him "Good Sport"

(By The Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 14.—W. E. (Pussyfoot) Johnson, the American prohibitionist whose campaign in England was rudely interrupted Thursday by a band of students, today, as a result of his attitude toward the adventure, is one of the most talked of and popular figures of the day. He commanded the biggest head lines in today's newspapers, and the general verdict of the head line writers was that he is a "good sport."

Baron Birkhead, the lord chancellor, speaking at a peace celebration dinner here tonight, referred to the Johnson incident and said it was profoundly to be regretted that a citizen of the United States should be subjected to such an outrage.

"Mr. Johnson," he said, "was invited here by an association of English people who share his views. He was as much entitled to express his opinion as the lord chancellor would be in the United States if invited there by an American association."

"Assailed by overwhelming odds, Mr. Johnson did all a man could do to defend himself and, overwhelmed by numbers which should not be employed against a man of his age, he behaved as a sportsman, a gentleman and a brave citizen of the United States."

CRIMINAL ANARCHISTS HELD

New York, Nov. 14.—James Larkin, Irish labor leader, and Benjamin Gitlow, a former assemblyman, charged with advocating criminal anarchy, were held for the grand jury late today by Chief Magistrate McAdoo. Before announcing his decision, Mr. McAdoo scathingly denounced the activities of radicals in this country.

REMOVE IRISH REPUBLIC FLAG

Portland, Oregon, Nov. 14.—A flag of the Irish republic was removed from the automobile of Eamonn DeValera, leader of the Irish independence party, here today by request of a party of former service men headed by Ensign A. T. Kurtz.

The coroner's inquest that one of the marchers had put his foot against the door of the I. W. W. hall before a shot had been fired.

I. W. W. Concentration Reported

Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 14.—Reports were received by the authorities here tonight that a concentration of I. W. W. was being attempted at Cumberland, a mining town in King county, that point being chosen for its isolation and the fact that the miners at present are not working.

Los Angeles Headquarters Raided

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 14.—Industrial Workers of the World headquarters at German hall were raided by uniformed ex-service men armed with clubs tonight and the place wrecked after a melee in which several supposed members of the radical organization were injured. Two men were taken to the receiving hospital.

Two Raids in San Francisco

San Francisco, Nov. 14.—Nine men were arrested and a quantity of alleged Red literature was seized late today in two raids on radical headquarters. Police Captain John O'Meara, who conducted the raids, declared all members of the Industrial Workers of the World must leave town of go to jail.

SAYS DEMANDS OF MINERS ARE "IMPOSSIBLE"

Wilson Also Denounces Unyielding Attitude Of Operators

OPENS LABOR PARLEY

Emphasizing Public Interest, Secretary Offers Three Plans To Bring About Settlement

Washington, Nov. 14.—Demands of coal miners for a 30-hour week and a 60 per cent. increase in wages and an unyielding position by the operators alike were declared "impossible" by Secretary Wilson in opening today the conference called to bring peace to the buminous coal fields of the nation. To obtain this peace, the secretary proposed three plans of procedure.

Declaring that the Washington wage agreement still is legally in force, Mr. Wilson told the operators and miners that the people of the United States were not "Shylocks" and do not want to exact the "technical provisions of a bond when the conditions under which the bond was made have changed." He added that "if any great change is made in the contract the people of the United States are the ones who will have to pay," and throughout his remarks emphasized the public interest in the coal settlement.

The three proposals expected to aid the two factions in arranging the new wage agreement were set forth by the labor secretary as follows:

"First, negotiation through joint wage scale committees representing all districts; second, negotiation through concurrent sessions of committees from the various districts; and, third, negotiation first of an agreement in the central competitive fields, and then of agreements for other fields, with that of the central district as a basis.

Secretary Wilson Explains Controversy

Reviewing previous negotiations at Buffalo, Philadelphia and Washington, the secretary said the failure to reach an agreement had resulted in strikes, "not only in the general field, but also in other fields where no demands had been made upon the operators."

Miners in the outlying fields, he added, were not at fault, because of their failure to present demands because it was well known that the miners had been willing that all districts be represented in negotiating a wage scale and that "all objections had come from the operators."

"Above all," said the secretary, "we are confronted with the fact that the great mass of people dependent on coal in their very daily life are interested in reaching a settlement not only in the central coal fields, but in all coal fields. It is for that reason I have asked your meeting here."

"I desire to recommend that wage scale committees representative of all the fields proceed to negotiate an adjustment. I want to point out to you that prompt action is necessary. As long as your troubles were local in character, there was no disposition to hurry you, but when your disputes take on a magnitude that affects the entire country, then the people at large as a matter of self-preservation are insistent that you come to a settlement."

"The miners' conference demanded a 30-hour week, a 60 per cent. increase in wages and some other things. It is fair to say to you now that a 30-hour week in the present industrial condition of the world is impossible in coal mining. I realize the fact that miners seldom have an opportunity to work a 30-hour week now when the maximum is 48 hours. If you make a minimum of 30 hours under the conditions surrounding the mining industry, it means an effective working week of very much fewer hours than that."

The reason for this, the secretary explained, was the seasonal demand for coal in many districts and mine accidents and breakdowns and the impossibility of furnishing transportation equipment to keep all of the mines working regularly.

Separate Conferences Held

After hearing Secretary Wilson, the conference adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow to permit the miners and operators to discuss separately the plan which would be most acceptable to each.

Indications of a conflict on the scope of the agreement to be negotiated involving the question of recognition of non-union workers developed at the outset of the conference and became more apparent in the two group meetings which followed.

Discussion in the miners' caucus, which followed the conference session, hinged on the question of whether operators representing both union and non-union fields would be included in the conference and the effect any agreement reached by the conference might have in those fields where the miners do not have contracts with the operators. Although officers of the United Mine Workers refused to make any statement following their meeting, it was learned that a plan for a

N. Y. Sugar Profiteers May Be Sent to Prison

New York, Nov. 14.—The first profiteering convictions in this federal district were secured today. Julius and Charles Roth, commission merchants, were found guilty by a jury of selling at 22 1/2 cents a pound sugar purchased at 9 1/2 cents a pound. Federal Judge Knox, before whom the case was tried, intimated that he would send the men to prison.

"If the law is to have any salutary effect at all," Judge Knox said, "that can only be accomplished by the imprisonment of persons convicted of profiteering in the necessities of life."

LOWER MILK PRICES IMPOSSIBLE—HORTON

Declares Price Is Regulated By Foreign Demand For Milk Products

New York, Nov. 14.—The price of milk is regulated by the demand abroad for butter, cheese and condensed milk, and for that reason lower milk prices are impossible. Loton Horton, president of the Borden Farm Products company, informed the fair price milk committee in a letter read at a hearing today. In addition, the consumer must pay the cost of pasteurizing, delivery and overhead, he said.

Mr. Horton offered to supply the 40 or more health department milk feeding stations in the poorest sections of the city at 12 cents a quart, the city to assume responsibility for the bottles. The price would represent a loss, Mr. Horton said, and the burden of any further reduction would have to be borne by the city.

Patrick D. Fox, vice president of the same company, suggested a plan for the organization of a company with producers and consumers on the board of directors and requiring consumers to make a deposit on bottles, as one of the features of the plan of operation. With limited profits, it is believed this plan would result in a reduction of price. Municipal operation was another plan considered.

The central federated union tonight endorsed the consumers' strike of the community councils of national reference, which will be launched on Monday as a protest to the increase in the price of milk.

Health Commissioner Copeland said that Mr. Fox's proposal had embodied the first workable and tangible plan received by the committee. He advocated the milk grading system.

Nathan Straus, who has established many milk stations in the city, declared Loton Horton is the one man responsible for the present milk prices. He said if Mr. Horton devoted the same energy to reducing prices that he did to raising them, the milk situation would be remedied.

nation-wide conference was favored, but before any proposal is agreed, to Secretary Wilson will be asked to make clear to the conference that the rights of organized labor are to be protected in those districts where the mining unions are not recognized by the coal companies.

The operators, however, did not look with favor on an agreement covering all fields. The Washington wage agreement for the first time, the operators asserted, fixed the same date for the expiration of contracts between miners and operators in all parts of the country. Fear of the power this arrangement gives the workers to bring about a nation-wide strike was expressed by the operators who indicated a desire to return to the old plan of basing all wage-scale contracts on the agreement reached in the central competitive field.

Owners of mines outside of the central competitive field conferred before the opening of the convention and opposition was expressed to participation in the negotiations.

"Orderly Chaos" in West Virginia

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 14.—The coal strike situation in the southern mining fields of West Virginia was in a stage of "orderly chaos" today, according to a statement issued tonight at the headquarters of the Kanawha Coal Operators' association. While mines were reported to have resumed operations in some districts, in others where men were at work yesterday walkouts occurred again today. Five "unauthorized" strikes were in progress in the Kanawha fields, preventing the resumption of operations in 13 mines.

Reports to the association showed that less than 50 per cent. of the Kanawha mines were operating and these had small working forces. At several places where the normal working force numbers several hundred, less than 50 men reported for work, it was stated.

Wyoming Miners to Return

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 14.—Seven thousand coal miners in Wyoming are to return to work at once following a satisfactory settlement of the controversy between union leaders and the operators here late today. The terms of settlement provide the men are to return to work on the wage scale adopted later for use in the central competitive field.

"RED" TROUBLES IN U. S. TRACED TO THE BORDER

Soviets Reach America By Way Of Mexico, Officials Say

SEEK NATIONALIZATION

Letter By Mexican Consul In New York Reveals His Connection With Radical Plots

(By the Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 14.—Disclosure yesterday of large orders for arms and ammunition placed by Mexico in Europe was followed today by revelations tending to show that the "red underground line" from Soviet Russia to the United States runs by way of Mexico.

It became known that the immigration service and the department of justice both are concerned at the influx of Russian radicals and other aliens of red tendencies over the Mexican border. Furthermore, government agents have traced much red propaganda over the Mexican line.

A letter written October 23 by Ramon P. Denegri, Mexican consul general in New York, to Flavio Borquez, a Mexican senator, endorsing the principle of nationalization, has come into the hands of the government and already has been called to the attention of the state department by at least two senators as showing Denegri's association with "radical Socialists" in the United States.

Mexico Attracts Radicals

In the opinion of officials here, the publication of Denegri's letter may lead to an embarrassing situation. It is known that the senators who called the attention of Secretary Lansing to it recommended cancellation of the consul general's exequatur.

Government investigators have reported that radicals seemed to have been first attracted to Mexico by certain so-called "ultra-modern" provisions of the new constitution. Denegri in his letter writes that "only Russia by nationalizing land has gone further than we have."

Denegri's letter as it comes to the government's hands, says in its principal parts:

"It would not only be sad, but even criminal, that we should abdicate our nationalization policy through the threats of Wall street capitalists. I believe this is an ideal time in which to assure Mexican petroleum once and for all, since it means nothing less than our greatest wealth so coveted by foreign interests."

You are probably familiar with the statements made by George Creel to our good friend Manuel Carpio on President Wilson's views with regard to the nationalization of petroleum in Mexico.

"Steps are at present being taken in the United States by the working classes, radical Socialists, honest intellectuals, etc., with a view not only to nationalizing natural resources, but to socialize industries in general. For your satisfaction and that of the members of the constitutional assembly, I must say that you set the example. I can testify to this for I have been on the scene of action since 1914."

Overturn in U. S. Imminent

"In 1917, I was in Washington in charge of our embassy when you took the transcendental step of nationalization. From that moment I made up my mind to engage in propaganda favorable to us by having our constitution printed in English. I have talked with prominent sociologists of the United States, England and Russia, and they have all informed me that our constitution is read with enthusiasm in these countries."

"The social movement in the United States is of such importance at the present time that from one moment to another there may be a change in the general order of things. There is a terrible dislocation between capital and labor. The conciliation conferences between industrialists and working men have failed. Throughout the United States there is a clamor for the socialization of industry. It would be sad if we, who initiated the movement, should abandon it through unavowed fears."

"I am following closely the movement in this country on petroleum, and as the majority of those who have started it are friends of mine, I am in a position to advise you on the subject. They have two tendencies: Either to nationalize petroleum or to have petroleum pass into the hands of the government so that it may develop with the privilege of leasing the lands but never to alienate through the fear that England may corner the whole petroleum of the world."

Government agents also have gathered evidence showing distribution of Red propaganda in the United States through Mexican sources and this is soon expected to be shown in public.

No Shipments From Belgium

Secretary Lansing explained today that a diplomatic inquiry had been made at Brussels respecting the placing of munitions orders by Mexico in

RAILWAY WORKERS WIN VICTORY IN THE HOUSE

Their Plan For Voluntary Conciliation Of Disputes Is Incorporated In Each Bill

Washington, Nov. 14.—Railway workers scored a complete victory in the house today through incorporation of their plan for voluntary conciliation of labor disputes in the Esch railroad bill. The house rejected a plan of compulsory arbitration, including an anti-strike provision, and also the plan written into the bill by the house interstate commerce committee which was described as a "middle ground" between that adopted and compulsory arbitration. No direct vote on the anti-strike proposal was taken.

The plan approved by the railroad employees, which was drafted by Representative Sweet, Republican of Iowa, and offered in the house by Representative Anderson, Republican of Minnesota, would legalize the machinery used by the railroads and their employees before and during federal control for the settlement of disputes, with commissions on labor disputes being added to consider cases appealed from the joint board that first considers them.

In brief, the plan divides the railroad workers into three classes and for each it establishes an adjustment board and appeal commission. No penalty against strikes or lockouts is imposed and membership on all six of the boards would be restricted to the workers and their employers and divided equally between them.

Both the roads and the employees would be directed by the plan as written into the bill "to exert every reasonable effort and adopt every available means to avoid an interruption" of traffic, and to this end the three boards of adjustment would be created, these being substantially the same as those existing under the railroad administration.

PREMIER'S WIFE URGES LADY ASTOR'S ELECTION

Mrs. Lloyd George Addresses Women's Meeting At Plymouth; Candidate Silences Hecklers

(By The Associated Press.)

Plymouth, England, Nov. 14.—The appearance today of Mrs. David Lloyd George, wife of the British prime minister, in the electoral campaign on the side of Lady Astor, who is running for the seat in the house of commons made vacant by the elevation of her husband, the new Viscount Astor, to the house of lords, marked the climax of one of the most unusual political battles ever fought in Plymouth.

Although at the meeting addressed by Mrs. Lloyd George only women were present, it was featured by the most determined attempts made by the opposition throughout the entire campaign to silence the speakers by use of hecklers. Lady Astor was present and also spoke.

At one point, when a forced discontinuance of the meeting appeared to be threatening, Lady Astor took the floor and faced the hecklers with defiance.

"I have told you that I am not ashamed of my American birth," she said. "I am proud that there is not a drop of blood in my veins that is not Anglo-Saxon. I now want to tell you that that blood is fighting British blood. I am willing to meet the whole of the independent labor party alone on Salisbury Plains, because they can't or won't fight."

The applause that greeted the candidate's words was deafening. The Guildhall, where the meeting was held, was crowded with 3,000 women an hour before the speaking began, while an equal number of women were outside clamoring for admission.

COUNT WASCITZ HEADS NEW HUNGARIAN COALITION MINISTRY

(By The Associated Press.)

Berlin, Nov. 14.—The formation of a coalition ministry in Hungary headed by Count Julius Wascitz and including former Premier, Frederick, and with Count Czaky as foreign minister, is reported in a wireless dispatch received here from Budapest. The ministry requires the sanction of the entente to be effective.

Belgium. The government adopted this course rather than that of a protest and is now satisfied that no shipments are to be made. The extensive orders placed by Mexico in Spain, Secretary Lansing refused to discuss, although it is known that the government has full knowledge of them and it is expected that a means will be found to deal with them.

The international arms convention, in violation of which the recent shipments have been made, is a subject on unpublished document. It is acknowledged here that it was signed in Paris on September 14, by the signatories to the league of nations covenant and provides that no nation which intends to become a member of the league of nations may permit shipments of arms while the world is passing through the transition period from war to peace.

JUDGES HOLD PROHIBITION LAWS VALID

Three Attempts in N. Y. Court To Prevent Dry Enforcement Fail

INJUNCTIONS DENIED

Kentucky Distillers Make Further Efforts To Lift The Prohibition Lid

New York, Nov. 14.—Three attempts to prevent enforcement of the war-time prohibition and Volstead enforcement acts failed in federal court here today. Federal Judges Hand, Knox and Rose of Baltimore, each in a different case, upheld the constitutionality of the law in denying petitions seeking injunctions to restrain interference in manufacture and withdrawal of liquor from bond.

Judge Hand denied a petition of Jacob Ruppert, brewer, who sought an injunction permitting him to resume the manufacture of beer of 2 1/2 per cent. alcoholic content.

"I hold that the war-time prohibition act remains a valid exercise of congressional power," Judge Hand stated in his decision, "and the only question left is of little warrant under the national prohibition act insofar as it includes what on this record I must accept to be non-intoxicating beer."

Await Supreme Court Decision

"Though the sole justification of the war-time prohibition act be to prohibit the sale of intoxicants, it may be impossible effectively to reach this end without including beer."

"The same rule must apply to congress as to a state legislature. Finally, the plaintiff in the second case (Ruppert) says that even though I should conclude, as I do, that the laws are constitutional, he should have a temporary injunction pending appeal. The supreme court is to hear arguments on the constitutionality of the war-time prohibition act on Thursday next and it is reasonable to suppose that an early decision will be reached. The damage done by an injunction meanwhile, cannot be measured by money."

"Here is a question of national public policy of allowing the sale of what the constituted authorities apparently regard as injurious to the public or to so much of it as they have a right to consider. To annul their will, if only for a season, is to do an injury which is to say the least, as irreparable as if the laws be valid, as to prevent the plaintiff from selling intoxicants for the same period if they are not."

"In all the books we are told that to declare a law unconstitutional we must be assured beyond question it is such. A temporary stay now is a declaration for a time that it is unconstitutional. It is to dispense with statutes till the case is finally decided. Assuming that I may do so, there seems to be no proper reason for exercising the power."

Judge Knox denied a petition to restrain William H. Edwards, collector of internal revenue, from preventing the release from bond barrels of distilled spirits. The petitioners were Dryfoos, Bloom & Co., wholesale liquor dealers, and the decision was handed down in passing on demurrers of two local saloon keepers who sought to prevent enforcement of the act.

Judge Rose's Opinion

The third decision, by Judge Rose, was on an application by the Maryland Distilling company for an injunction to prevent Joshua W. Miles, collector of internal revenue of Maryland, from interfering in the release of large quantities of whiskey now in bond.

In commenting on the fact that technically the nation is still at war, Judge Rose expressed the opinion that the use of beer and light wines should be permitted because of changed conditions since last spring. He added that it was not in the province of the judiciary to state when the war is at an end.

"I have every sympathy with persons whose business conducted in a law-abiding manner is confiscated without compensation," said Judge Rose. "I agree with Judge Hand that it was perfectly reasonable for congress to say war is not ended till the treaty of peace is ratified. There must be some way for all the world to know when one man may take his whiskey out of bond."

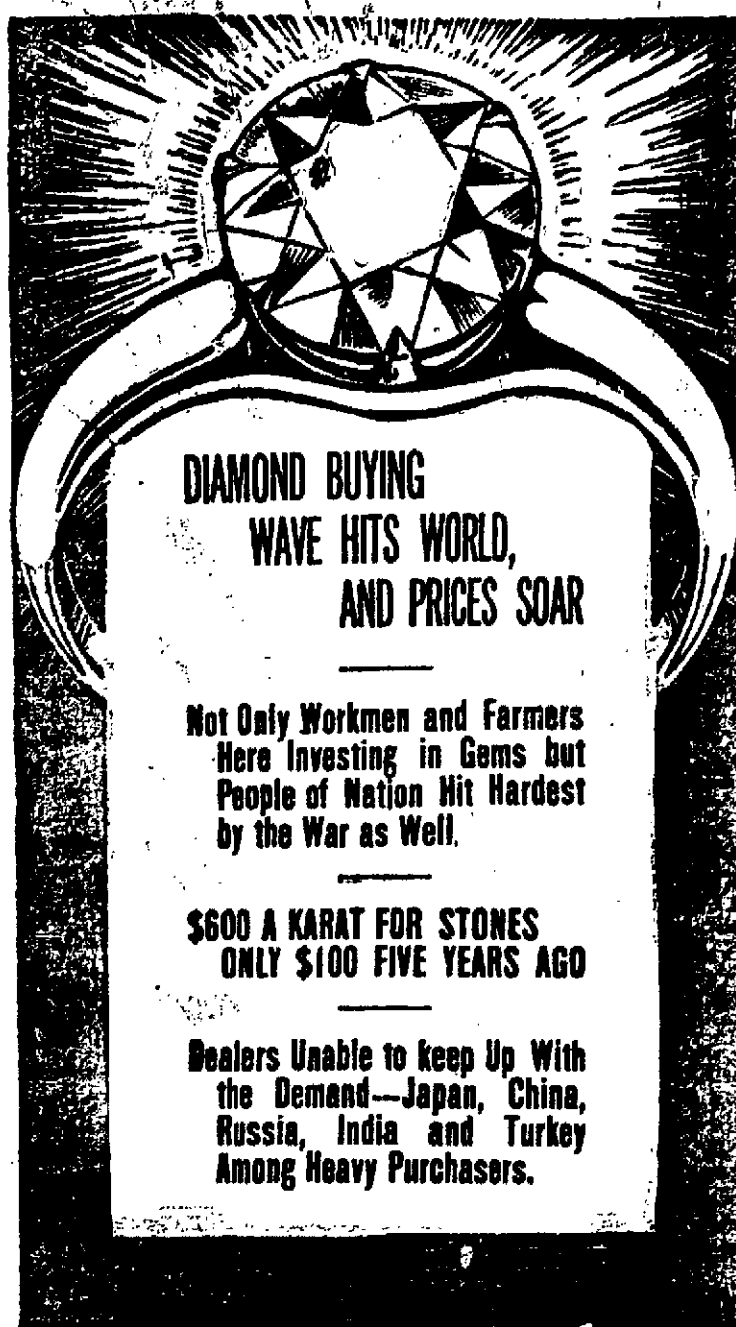

Kentucky "Wet Spell" Continues

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 14.—Three more petitions for temporary injunctions restraining the government from interfering with the sale of tax-paid floor stock whiskey were filed in Judge Evans' federal court here today. The three concerns seek an injunction similar to that granted yesterday to the Wright & Taylor and the Brown-Forman companies, which permitted them to sell their floor stock whiskey unimpaired by federal authorities, although they are liable to prosecution if the supreme court finds the war-time prohibition enforcement acts unconstitutional, according to District Attorney W. V. Gregory.

O. H. S. DEFEATS COBLESKILL

Schoharie Valley Five Swamped by Deluge of Scores—Local Boys Win by Score of 38 to 6—Perry Stars For Oneontans.

The Cobleskill High school basketball team was beaten badly by the Oneonta High school five at the High school gymnasium last evening, by a score of 38 to 6.

The locals evidently were out for revenge, after their defeat last week, and kept Cobleskill guessing most of the time, as to what was going to happen next. On the whole the game was not very interesting, the Oneonta five having things their own way throughout the game, giving little chance for anxious moments to the players and those attending. At the end of the first half, the score stood 21 to 4 and at the end of the game 38 to 6 in favor of the High school.

Perry starred for the High school, making eight field baskets and eight points on fouls. Ruff was the shining light for Cobleskill, making a total of five points.

Y. M. C. A. BOWLERS HAPPY

New Equipment Put in Place And Enthusiastically Welcomed.

The new Y. M. C. A. bowling equipment received a most enthusiastic welcome as soon as the finishing touches had been put on at 2:45 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Chairman Beckstedt of the Physical Department committee, bowed the first game and gave the alleys his official endorsement. From the time the first ball started 'til closing time, there was something doing all the time. No better equipment can be had and the members appreciate it.

The alleys have been raised, improving the appearance greatly. The mechanical pin setters will increase the speed of the games and the number of men that may be accommodated during an evening. The opening games of the annual "Y" tournament are scheduled to take place next Monday evening and all bowlers are looking forward with enthusiasm to a most enjoyable season.

STOCKS MAKE FURTHER SUBSTANTIAL RECOVERY

Activity And Strength Of Rails Most Noteworthy And Hopeful Feature Of Day

New York, Nov. 14.—Stocks made further substantial recovery today from their severe declines of the mid-week, although there were occasional signs that the market had not fully adjusted itself.

The most noteworthy and hopeful features were the activity and strength of rails, accompanied by favorable advices from Washington and the confident accumulation of other standard issues as reported by commission houses.

Temporary reversals of relatively minor proportions succeeded the strong opening, these being ascribed mainly to realizing for quick profits. Another setback followed the publication of the first call money rate of 14 percent, the latter figure ruling until the last hour, when successive offerings forced the rate down to eight percent.

The condition of the time money market was the one serious drawback of the session. Virtually no funds were obtainable at the eight percent bid, even for renewals, local banks withdrawing almost entirely, while interior banks confined their loans to nominal amounts for the shorter dates.

Transcontinentals led the rails, with Union Pacific in the foreground at an extreme advance of five points. Grangers and coalters were not far behind with cotton carriers, while many secondary transportations were higher by 1 to 4 points.

General motors steered an irregular course, fluctuating in a 20 point radius and closing at a loss of about eight points. Related shares, also oils, steels and equipments, eased at the end after having shown irregular gains.

Pools were less active in the many specialties which featured recent operations, leathers, tobaccos, shippings and food issues being comparatively inconspicuous and little changed. Sales amounted to 1,500,000 shares.

The general bond list strengthened on buying of speculative rails, Liberty issues also improving. Total sales, par value, aggregated $14,550,000. Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

The Radical and Contradictory

Statements regarding the Teeth and Mouth

have made the public skeptical. Intelligent people care for their teeth — they do not worry about whether the mouth should be Acid or Alkaline — they know the mouth is as nature intended if the stomach is in proper condition. They demand a safe dentifrice, one that contains no grit, one that is not over-medicated, one that does not contain too much sugar, but a tooth paste made to thoroughly cleanse the teeth and keep the mouth in a healthy condition and can be used freely with absolute confidence that it is Safe.

3 Million Dollars but— It Bought MUSIC

No finer example of courage is known to the world of science than Thomas Edison's work in perfecting the phonograph. The skeptics rose in full chorus when he proposed a better phonograph,—an instrument "that could produce music as human as the artists who first gave it utterance."

Mr. Edison's experiments exhausted the entire field of research in sound reproduction. He built and rebuilt until his final, perfected model cost him Three Million Dollars.

And the result?

Ask some one who attended the Leola Lucey recital Monday evening. There was the public proof. Miss Lucey sang in comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. And no one could distinguish the living voice from its RE-CREATION.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

If you love music, you will agree with Monday's enthusiastic audience:—The New Edison represents Three Million Dollars well spent.

The soul of song is cheap at any price. Yet it is now brought within reach of your pocket-book. The instrument used in Monday's conclusive test is a duplicate of Mr. Edison's Three Million Dollar Model. It sells for $285 (in Canada, $431).

"Why, Mamma, you have two-sight glasses just like Daddy's!"

Mr. Brown's experiences with two-vision glasses and his fortunate investments in Kryptoks, induced Mrs. Brown to consult her eye-glass specialist. He recommended Kryptoks.

Wise little daughter discovers that she is wearing them Mr. Brown's friends, too, will be surprised, because there is no ugly line or seam to distinguish them from single-vision glasses. Kryptoks are the only bifocals without line, seam or hump.

KRYPTOK
THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

Kryptoks do not reveal age. They make one appear younger by enabling the person wearing them to see both near and distant objects as clearly and distinctly as with the eyesight of youth.

They not only "look young" but they remove the thought of age from the consciousness, and from this standpoint alone Psychologists say they are wonderfully valuable.

THRILLING MOMENTS

[In a photoplay which thrills throughout, these points still are marked by an emotional power which lifts them above all the others.]

When Tom Mix and Sid Jordan engage in a fight to the death in the deep snow of the wilderness, each armed with a knife. This battle, which required half an hour to film, is one of the most realistic and hair-raising ever seen in a motion picture.

When Tom Mix finds his sweetheart at the mercy of two drunken ruffians in a cabin in the desolate snow waste, and attacks the men, killing both after a desperate struggle which the girl watches in fear and trembling. This scene is calculated to cause the spectators to rise from their seats.

When Mix, attacked in a cabin by a gang of fur thieves, attempts to escape by the window and his gun is caught by the window frame, preventing his egress. This scene includes a battle by Mix against tremendous odds, and calls for every fight stunt and expedient of which Mix is master. It is a marvel of skill and physical prowess.

When Colleen Moore endeavors to convince her raging father that Tom Mix, whose life he seeks, is a man of honor and neither a thief nor a kidnapper of young girls. This is a stormy scene during which tragedy is momentarily threatened.

When Tom Mix takes final leave of his beloved horse, which he is forced to shoot when rendered useless by a severe wound inflicted by Mix's villainous pursuers. This is an extraordinarily pathetic scene, emphasizing eloquently Tom Mix's love for "man's best friend in the animal world."

When Tom Mix, after arguing with a malicious party, desperate from hunger, leads them in a mad dash against the thiefing band whose crime has been attributed to him.

LOCAL EDITORIAL MENTION.

Local Church Members.

A recent press dispatch which has already had considerable currency states that Bishop Pike of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Central New York has undertaken a campaign of search for lost church members. The idea of the drive is that in the course of years many members of the church move from the community of their earlier residence, and because another church is more remote, or perhaps because no one has asked about them, they have not affiliated with the society elsewhere. So, while their names may remain on the books of the original church, they are in effect "lost members." As a quick way to get in touch with them the bishop has had recourse to the advertising columns of the daily and weekly press.

While this conditions is perhaps more noticeable in country districts, it is not unknown in cities, even perhaps in Oneonta, where always there is effort on the part of pastors and the active membership of all societies, to get in touch with the new comers, to learn their affiliations and to invite them to unite with their own denomination here. But, active as these efforts have been, there are doubtless not a few lost members here—men and women who in a community so large have been overlooked and perhaps on account of their own timidity have allowed their church attendance to lapse. A canvass of the entire city, undertaken by the churches, would no doubt result in locating these lost members, and in most cases of bringing them again into the church fold. At any rate it is a thing worth thinking of.

Americanization in Oneonta.

The work of Americanization, which in Oneonta has been begun through the organization of night schools in which foreigners are being taught to speak, read and write the English language, is a most important one which should have to even a greater extent than heretofore the active support of citizens, and also their participation in the actual work. A census of Oneonta by nationalities would unquestionably show many, not a few of them of long residence here and who expect to remain here permanently, who know only the mere rudiments of the English tongue, and a still larger number who, while perhaps familiar with their native language and able to read it readily, cannot read English. It is not to be marveled at that men like these should remain in ideas and ideals foreigners, no matter how long ago they came to America.

The Americanization school will do a fine work if it succeeds in teaching the English tongue to these men, in familiarizing them also with the written word and as a final important thing imbuing them with American principles as well as with an understanding of the constitution of the United States. To how large an extent foreigners will hereafter be admitted to the United States is a matter which the government will probably decide; but those already here at least should have every opportunity given to become good citizens and well instructed in the laws of the land to which they expect presently to swear allegiance.

If they are to be voters, they need more than mere term of residence, good behavior, and a perfunctory ability to read a section of the constitution. They should be speedily put in the way of reading English and thinking American.

A Neglected Heritage.

But, while earnest effort is being put forth to make the foreign-born fit for the franchise and citizenship which presently they will claim, attention may be well enough directed to a certain failure of the native born citizen to live up to personal duties or obligations. The foreign-born are to be so instructed that they may be able to vote intelligently; but what about those born in the United States and who fail to exercise that franchise which is their birthright?

According to a careful estimate less than 70 per cent of the qualified voters of Oneonta registered for the November election, and not more than 60 per cent of the whole number of electors appear to have voted. Under these circumstances it would seem a foremost duty, not merely to enforce certain restrictions on the foreign-born, but to make the matter of voting on the part of every voter compulsory and not merely voluntary, due consideration being given of course to illness or unavoidable absence from city or state. Voting, if one stops to consider it, is not merely a privilege. It is a duty.

Good Books for Children.

The librarian and her assistant, and in fact all who are interested in the welfare of the Oneonta Public Library, have been to a great degree gratified at the interest which have been taken alike by children and adults in the "Good Books for Children" week. Many of the finest books for children, alike classics and the latest of recent publications, have been displayed and they have been read over carefully, and fingered

CONVENTION AT COOPERSTOWN

Large Number of Sunday School Workers Attend County Meeting Held Thursday—Interesting Addresses and Reports.

The Otsego County Sunday School convention at Cooperstown opened Thursday morning with an attendance of about sixty delegates, which number increased later in the day to about a hundred. At 10 o'clock the morning session opened with the registration of Sunday school teachers, pastors and workers, and at 10:30 the convention was called to order by the Rev. Clinton B. Henry of Worcester, president. The devotions were led by the Rev. B. W. Dix, after which the Rev. LeRoy Halbert, pastor of the Baptist church at Cooperstown, gave an interesting and helpful address on the subject, "Outstanding Sunday School Problems Pressing for Solution." A second address, "The Sunday School and Its Relation to the Home," by Rev. C. B. Henry, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Worcester, was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

At the business session, with which the morning session concluded, the following committees were appointed: Nominations—John D. Carey, Richfield Springs; John D. Bulson, Schenectady; Mrs. N. S. Becker, Milford. Resolutions—Rev. W. W. Jones; Mrs. T. B. Roberts, Richfield Springs; Mrs. W. H. Fay, Cooperstown. Finance—Rev. B. W. Dix, Cooperstown; Rev. LeRoy Halbert, Cooperstown; Rev. P. M. Luther, Oneonta. All officers elected at the spring session with the exception of two, were re-elected. Mrs. A. W. Bailey of Otsego was elected superintendent of the Children's Department and Mrs. W. D. Cunningham of Middlefield Center was elected superintendent of the Young People's Department.

At the afternoon session, a timely and interesting address, "Possibilities of the Sunday School in World Reconstruction," was delivered by the Rev. John Haasler, County Superintendent of Chemung county. Mrs. V. T. Hyde of Cooperstown addressed the convention in the interests of the society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Miss Mary K. Burd of Albany, State Home Extension Superintendent, also spoke on the work of the Sunday Schools.

The two most important resolutions proposed, discussed and unanimously adopted at the afternoon session are as follows:

Resolved: That we as a county organization ask for at least 65 per cent of the money recently raised in this county in the New York State Sunday School Campaign, the same to be spent at the direction of the County executive committee for county Sunday school work.

Resolved: That five cents per member be asked from the Sunday schools of the county to be used for state and county work.

In the evening, the Rev. James Elmer Russell, pastor of the North Presbyterian church at Binghamton, addressed the session in a very interesting manner on the subject, "The Challenge of the Present Times to the Sunday School." Secretary Floyd S. Barlow of Cooperstown also spoke in the interests of the Otsego County Improvement association.

Supper and dinner were served to the visiting delegates by the ladies of the church and members of the Cooperstown churches furnished lodgings for all who remained over night.

Owing to conditions which forced the Otsego County Sunday School association to hold a spring convention this year, the recent one was of only one day's duration. The next convention to be held in November, 1920, the exact date and place not being yet decided, will cover the customarily two days.

Church Buys Property.

The A. M. E. church of Oneonta has recently completed the purchase of the Amelia Farone and Louisa Farone property on Hunt street in this city for church purposes. The church has recently incorporated a society in Oneonta under the name of "The Anna Wilson Anderson Memorial A. M. E. Church, Inc." of Oneonta, New York, with Rev. Jennie E. Anderson as pastor.

Miss Anderson is to be congratulated on her progress made in behalf of the church here and on securing a house of worship for the colored people in this city.

reverently. What to read is a vital thing to be considered by both young and old, but in particular in the life of the child, since youth is essentially the formative period. An examination of the best books, therefore, especially when directed by those capable as the library staff, is setting the feet of childhood in the right literary way.

Not children alone, however, have been interested in the Children's Book Week proposition. Parents, uncles and aunts and grandmothers, even, have visited the library; they have gained new insight into what would be best for children to read and no doubt they carried away with them useful hints as to holiday gifts for the young which a little nearer Christmas will develop in purchases from the bookshelves.

BAKER BEFORE SUPERVISORS.

Oneonta Man Objects to Assessment for Cutting Highway Brush.

Cooperstown, Nov. 14. — Charles H. Baker of Oneonta appeared before the Board of Supervisors this morning for the purpose of making objection to the assessment for cutting brush alongside the highway, which assessment amounting to $25.14 was reported in a petition from the town board of the town of Oneonta on Wednesday.

Mr. Baker was granted the privilege of the floor for the purpose of explaining the circumstances in regard to the matter. He said that the road in question was a part of the old turnpike from Oneonta to Franklin and was maintained for many years by the turnpike company before being turned over to the town. It was the policy of the company to leave trees and brush along the roadside in order to prevent snow drifting in the winter time. Such trees as were cut were taken by the toll gate keeper, the company giving him the wood for the trouble of removing them. It was Mr. Baker's contention that when the road was turned over to the town the brush should have been cut at town expense. This, he said, he explained to the town superintendent and requested a hearing before the town board, but had heard nothing further regarding the matter until he read of the assessment in The Star Wednesday morning.

Supervisor Chapin, replying to Mr. Baker, said that the matter had been considered by the town board, and as they understood the law there was no authority for making the matter a town charge, and they had therefore returned the assessment against the owner.

Petitions for the correction of assessment rolls and for the refund of erroneous taxes were received from the assessors of Otsego and Middlefield. There were also petitions for the levying of taxes on the fire and lighting districts of Worcester and East Worcester from the town board of Worcester and for lighting the streets of West Oneonta from the town board of Oneonta. Also the sum of $449.98 for repairs on tractor for the town of Oneonta.

The board adjourned this afternoon until Monday, November 17, at 2 p. m.

Special Sermon by Rev. Burd.

The special sermons which are being preached on Sunday evenings by Rev. Norman S. Burd, on the general theme, "The Dark Period Before the Dawn or Just Before the End of the Age," are proving to be of interest as was evidenced by the enlarged attendance at the service of last Sunday night. The theme for this week is "Sex-Lust or Fornication." Come and hear the good singing.

"To Hell with the Mayor."

"Burn the court house. Hang the mayor." Did you hear about it? How the mob yell prevailed in the city of Omaha? It's fine, new court house was burned, a rope was placed around the mayor's neck and he was pounded and nearly killed. Isn't it time to find out how four million of us are working together to help each other, loaning money to each other to get homes and farms and dividing all profits together, so that we don't have to join a mob? Isn't it about time to find out how Uncle Sam and the state help and how some 3,000 of us here in Oneonta have made rent money and small amounts pay for some three million dollars worth of homes and farms and are fast rolling up over two million more? Yet many of us are more interested as to who won the ball game yesterday and in going to the movies. Rats! Why don't we use our brains more? I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. advt 11

NO TIME FOR BOASTING

WHILE WE TOLERATE HERE THINGS WE DENOUNCE IN GERMANY.

So Declares Rev. Dr. J. Addison Jones of Albany While Discussing Personalities and Problems Before the Men's Club of the First Methodist Church Last Evening.

This is no time for idle boasting of what America has done in ending the world war declared Rev. Dr. J. A. Jones, pastor of the Reformed church of Albany, addressing the Men's club of the First Methodist church at its second monthly dinner last evening at which there was a large attendance with the closest of attention given the distinguished Albany divine. The banqueters were seated about 7:30 o'clock and for nearly an hour gave the same undivided attention to the excellent dinner prepared by the Ladies' Aid society of the church and served piping hot with abundant relishes and dishes.

Dr. Jones' theme was "Personalities and Problems," and he after some pleasant remarks which put his auditors in a receptive mood, he declared prior to the opening of the war two notable characters stood out before the world, our own Colonel Roosevelt and Kaiser William of Germany. The speaker then proceeded to contrast the aims, purposes and aspirations of each leader of thought, holding that the latter sought to build an empire that would dominate the world upon deception, falsehood and the theory that any course was justified that would serve its purposes in war, while the former during his entire career fought for the continuation of a republic and its further development upon the principle of equal opportunity and a square deal for all. The one founded upon the sand has passed and the perpetuity of the one based upon eternal truths is placed in our hands. We should be optimistic for the future and with unflinching patriotism and loyalty strive with all our powers for a better world. There truly are no barriers for men of character and strength who seek not their own selfish advancement but first of all the welfare of humanity and the preservation of America, with all her glorious opportunities.

The speaker denounced in unstinted terms any who may be here partaking of the benefits and opportunities America affords yet who sense no obligation to the republic and no loyalty to the flag. We should have no room here for men who acknowledge allegiance to any other institution and power superior to the duty to the state, be it labor, capital or religion.

While we are denouncing Germany and the things for which she stood, we should speak in measured terms and be cautious. How can we denounce militarism in another while we openly advocate compulsory military training and a big and powerful navy for ourselves? Can we rebuke violations of law while so many of our laws are openly violated? We should be zealous to avoid in our nation the things which we condemn in Germany.

In closing, the speaker commended the Athenians for their unswerving loyalty to the home city, and said that the world needs men who are actuated by the same motives toward the home country, city and church. It is essential if we are to solve the problems before us. This we must do and by displaying the qualities of citizenship of the lamented Roosevelt we will preserve America—the hope of the world.

The address was punctuated throughout with much of humor, and at one point he declared that the country had curbed the big interests and that it is the duty of the government to invoke the aid of the courts to prevent both lockouts and strikes for the common good, which sentiment was applauded quite heartily.

Prior to the dinner the diners sang America and Miss Hancock favored the assemblage with a solo that was keenly enjoyed. The speaker's table, at which W. I. Bolton, president of the club, presided, was decorated with a massive bouquet of large and beautiful chrysanthemums from the Grove Street greenhouse of R. E. Wyckoff.

TUBERCULOSIS CLINIC

Will Be Held at Municipal Hall, Oneonta, Next Tuesday.

Attention is again called to the free tuberculosis clinic, which will be held in Oneonta on November 18 at the Municipal building, from 2 to 5 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

Dr. Elliott Washburn, formerly superintendent of the Massachusetts State sanatorium at Rutland, who has charge of the clinic, is a well known specialist in the diagnosis of chest diseases and made many friends in the county during the clinics which he conducted last spring. Dr. Frank L. Winsor, who will assist in the clinic, has also had much experience, especially in recent years, in tuberculosis, being at present superintendent of the County Tuberculosis sanatorium at Mt. Vernon.

Miss Carrie Ennis, R. N., and Miss Anna Sweeney, R. N., the nurses in attendance, are both well known in the county as public health nurses.

With the exception of the Richfield Springs clinic on November 25, there will probably be no more clinics this season and for this reason it is doubly important that advantage be taken of those for which arrangements are now being made.

HOBSON AT MUNICIPAL HALL.

The Hero of the Merrimack Speaks Sunday Afternoon in Oneonta.

As has previously been announced, Captain R. P. Hobson, hero of the Merrimack and later an eloquent representative in congress, will speak at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Municipal hall in this city. Captain Hobson, who is not unknown personally in Oneonta, where he has previously lectured, is a speaker of pronounced ability, and no doubt many who heard him on the occasion of his earlier appearance as well as others who never have had that pleasure, will desire to be present. It is understood that he appears under the auspices of the Anti-Saloon league.

To Meet Disabled Soldiers.

F. C. Knight, of the department of vocational training at Albany, will be at the Oneonta Red Cross rooms in the post office building today, to interview all disabled soldiers and sailors relative to their claims for compensation and vocational training. All soldiers and sailors who desire to have an interview with him are requested to be at the rooms at 1 o'clock.

THE DEGREES OF CHIVALRY

Canton David Wilber Has Charge of Big Event Monday.

The local committee of Canton David Wilber, which has in charge the exercises at the Oneonta State armory on Monday evening, announces that Lady Carson of Buffalo, a soprano soloist of exceptional ability and of wide repute, will assist in the work for the Decoration of Chivalry on that occasion. She comes highly recommended by other organizations, among them the Grand lodge of Maryland.

At 8 o'clock that evening there will be a concert by Company G band. Following this there will be the Decoration of Chivalry, conferred by General P. H. Dickson of Buffalo, assisted by his staff from Binghamton, Albany and Rochester. Following this the Grand Decoration of Chivalry will be conferred by General W. C. Gurney and staff from Binghamton and Albany. Then will follow the grand military ball, given by Company G band and the Wilber canton, to which all are invited.

Prior to the impressive exercises of decoration, there will be a reception to visiting delegates and a lunch at Odd Fellows' temple. The reception will be at 5:30 o'clock.

In addition to the members from Oneonta and Delhi, it is expected that many visitors will be present from other cantons of the state.

FIRST REHEARSAL SUNDAY.

Oneonta Philharmonics Plan Three Concerts For Sixth Season.

Prof. Robert E. Gardner announces the commencement of the rehearsals of the Oneonta Philharmonics society for Sunday afternoon, at 3:45 o'clock, at Municipal hall. He requests that all members remember to bring their music stands and that all be present at this opening recital.

The society is planning three recitals for its sixth season and that they will be anticipated by all who have attended the previous years is beyond question. Prof. Gardner is confident of the largest and best orchestra since it was organized in 1914, and he hopes to give concerts that will appeal to music lovers.

This organization has been of material aid in elevating the musical standards of the city and has contributed to the pleasures of each succeeding winter, and it is to be hoped that liberal patronage will be extended when the concerts are announced.

Three things go into a suit:

Labor Material Style

With a good manufacturer, correct style goes into every garment, whatever the price. For good style be sure your garment is made by a good firm.

Labor, as represented by part of the garment's price, is fairly constant. A good maker constructs every garment carefully, regardless of price. The actual cost of making an inexpensive suit is little less than that of making an expensive suit. For workmanship, also, judge by the manufacturer.

What, then, is the difference between a $30 Suit and a $60 Suit? Material! If you must watch the cost, don't think it economy to buy a cheap suit with inferior material. Ignore fancy weaves if you wish, but buy something that will wear. You pay more, but that is true economy.

We offer you only the garments of the best manufacturers. Every one has correct style and the best workmanship. Every one is built of good material. We believe, however, that you will be better satisfied with a medium priced suit or coat than an inexpensive one.

Suit prices are from $27.50 to $90.00
Coat Prices from $13.00 to $100.00

Mr. Farmer, do you know today we have a real manure spreader? One that is serviceable and durable and practically all steel, with roller bearings, hard oil cups, lighter draft than the ordinary manure wagon. By the use of this spreader one load of manure is worth two loads, that is thrown out with a fork. Do not throw away that which is given to you and buy commercial fertilizer to make up the loss.

Some Farmers are getting wise to this fact as we have taken orders for a carload in the last three weeks. The longer you peg along in the old way the sooner you will become old and gray.

No Manufacturer says, "I need power, but not machinery." He says rather, "I need better machinery to utilize the power at my disposal."

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan with electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3 1/2-inch tires and tire carrier, for every day in the year has no equal as a family car. Just as popular on the farm as it is in the city. In fact, it fits the family demands in every vocation of life. Large, roomy seats, finely upholstered. Plate glass windows make it an open car in pleasant weather, while in rainy and inclement weather it becomes a closed car, dust-proof and rain-proof. It is ideal for social functions, the theatre, or parties; carrying the children to school, or for touring. It is not only comfortable, but really cozy, and above all, economical in operation and maintenance, and yet with all it has the Ford merits of strength and durability. We solicit your order for one. B. E. Swart and Rex Chamberlain Return From Adirondacks With Bucks

B. E. Swart, whom traveling men have missed from the Windsor during the past three weeks, has returned from an outing of that duration passed on the East Canada creek during which he spent two weeks in his own tent and the last week being at the camp of Harry Burton at Oregon Pass, finding most acceptable quarters at the latter place after others of his party returned. He brought with him a sleek and fat buck weighing apparently 200 pounds. The carcass was displayed in front of the Windsor hotel last evening and was admired by many passersby.

Rex Chamberlain of the Rex garage reached home late Thursday evening from a stay in camp on Piseco lake, also in the same locality. He was unaccompanied except by his guide and he brought with him as a result of his skill with the rifle a fine 11-point buck. Both hunters found the hunting the best the latter part of the open season.

Golden Seal Meets.

The Oneonta camp of the Golden Seal met last evening at Odd Fellows hall on Chestnut street, and held a business meeting and a social hour. After the initiation Mr. Bouton gave a very interesting talk on the work of the order and its accomplishments. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served, and a very enjoyable and instructive evening was had by all attending.

THEY WERE NOT SENTIMENTAL, NO!

Even Lectured at Length on Art of Getting Married.

'WHY BE SILLY?' SAYS GROOM

Cleveland Couple Appear Garbed as for Informal Picnic and Bridegroom Holds Forth Voluminously on His Ideas of Modern Marriage Ceremony—But Read What the Clerk Saw in Little Alcove Off the Court.

"There's too much silly sentimentality about getting married nowadays, anyway," a young bridegroom told Edward Fairbanks, cashier of probate court in Cleveland after sitting in his pocket and laying out on the counter three quarters and a nickel for his license.

He looked like a sentiment-defying bridegroom, clad in a plain fannel suit, heavy tan shoes and an army shirt and black string necktie.

And his bride, of about his age—twenty-three—was dressed in gingham, as if for an informal picnic. Furthermore, the young man volunteered a little lecture on the art of getting married in this modern day.

"Why be so silly?" "Notice we haven't donned our Sunday best just because we are signing a business contract," he inquired.

"Yes, I had noticed that very thing," replied Cashier Fairbanks.

"Why should we be silly and uncomfortable and sentimental over a business proposition?" continued the youth.

"We didn't come down in a taxi. We rode down on the street car. We didn't talk about our great day and gaze soulfully into each other's eyes. We talked about the apartment we're going to live in, and wondered if the player piano on the floor above us would be going after eleven at night."

"Well, you're the first of your kind I've ever seen," said Mr. Fairbanks.

"I hope you won't miss—er—what you seem to scorn."

"We won't," said the youth. He beckoned to the girl and they sauntered out of the office.

No Sentiment; Oh, No!

There's an alcove off the court of fees. No one can see it except persons passing through the door—and the cashier.

"They didn't figure on me," Mr. Fairbanks said later.

"What did they do? Oh, nothing. They're so sensible and businesslike. She just stepped into the alcove and he followed, and then he put his arms around her and gave her the most masterly, sentimental, loving hug and kiss I ever saw. And I've seen a few in my time."

"We won't," said the youth. He beckoned to the girl and they sauntered out of the office.

JAIL IS HIS HOME

Man Had Been Imprisoned There for Twenty-Seven Years.

With a record of twenty-seven years spent in prison, William Rinker of Norristown, Pa., is a problem for Presiding Judge Swartz to solve.

The judge said in court that the prison inspectors are convinced that further incarceration will be of no avail; that when he is in jail Rinker is a model prisoner, and is all right outside except when he gets liquor, when he reverts to stealing—unconsciously, he claims. Rinker has been out of jail two years, after serving a five-year sentence for larceny. Less than a month ago he was found at 3 o'clock in the morning with a bag of shoes.

In pleading guilty to receiving stolen goods Rinker said that after a fellow he didn't know had piled him with whiskey, he handed Rinker the bag, whose contents Rinker did not know.

Rinker's latest employer, Frank R. Heaver, a builder, told the court he is willing to take Rinker back and act as parole officer. The shoes found in the bag had been stolen from the store of Sarah Goldberg, Norristown, by breaking a show window.

A small part of the money was expended upon the purchase of arms, but the greater part went to Russian manufacturers to pay for 10,000 brass images of Buddha.

Mobile, Ala.—J. L. Robertson, aged resident of St. Stephens, Ala., in Washington county, near here, found several thousand dollars in gold coins. Toothprint Clew.

Huntington, Ind.—Sherlock Holmes was outshone by Huntington police when they found tooth prints in a green pear near looted cars in the railroad yards. Four youths were held at Iowa City as suspects in the car thefts. The police sent the pear to authorities there and they compelled James Glenn to bite into the fruit. Confession followed, police say.

KINDNESS IS QUITE COSTLY

Animal Given a Home and Then Proprietor Was Fined.

Kindness to animals has cost Jack Mills of Clark Mills, Pa., a cool $175. A short time ago he found a female ferret on his farm. It was so tame that he took it to his home and cared for it. Several days later it presented him with a family of six little ferrets. A complaint was filed against him by Game Warden Gruver, charging the keeping of ferrets contrary to the state law. He was fined $25 and costs for each ferret in his possession.

In justifying his action Gruver declared that he has been noted, each rabbit season that hunters had in their possession great quantities of rabbits that defied all search for shot marks.

The Road—In New Overland 4 on Three-Point Cantilever Springs

YOU expect a bad road to ride as it looks. It did, until the introduction of the Overland 4 Springbase.

Overland 4 does not change the road, but it does change the manner in which you can ride on it. It gives you comfort instead of discomfort. It gives you a smooth, sailing sensation instead of bouncing and swaying.

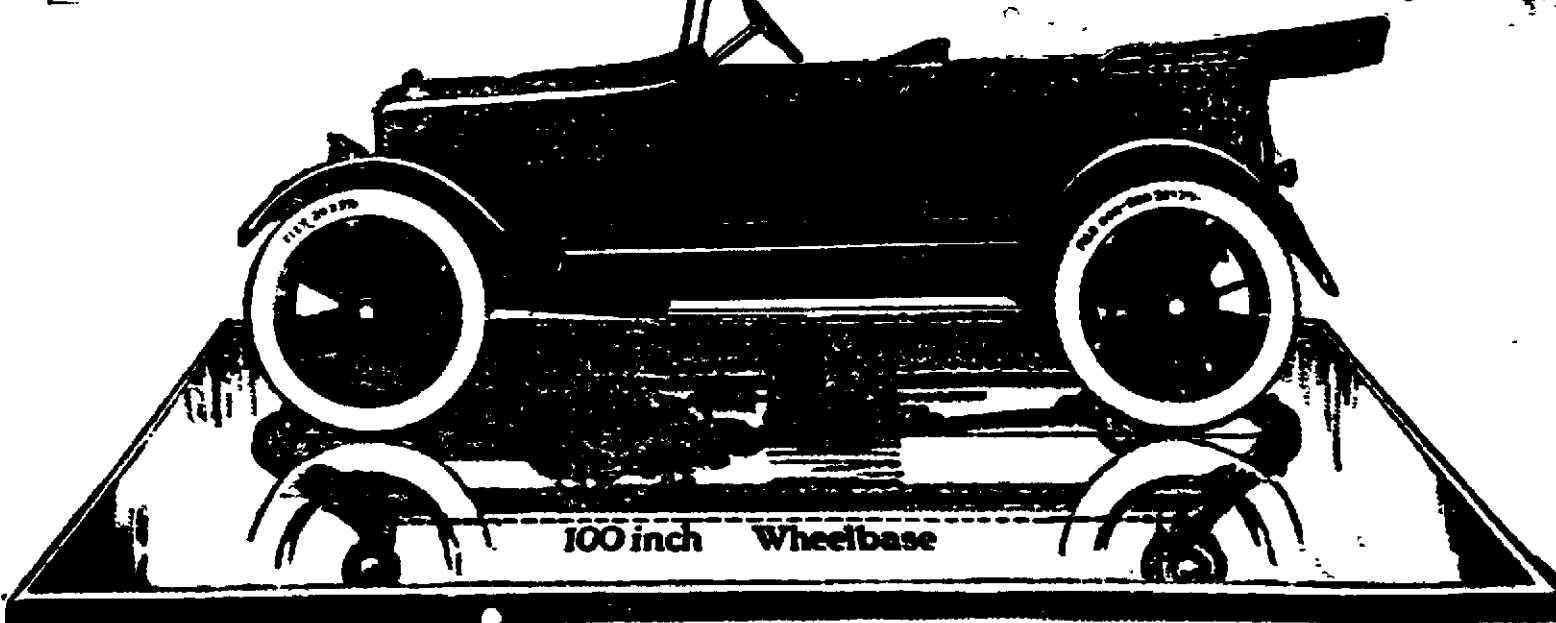

The Diagonal attachment of Three-Point Cantilever Springs at the 130-inch Springbase gives long wheelbase road—less. Yet Overland 4 retains all the advantages—lightness, economy, and ease of handling—of 100-inch wheelbase.

This means an altogether new standard of riding comfort, a noteworthy reduction in the wear and tear which lessens the efficiency of a car. The new springs give longer life to every part and thus minimize upkeep and replacement costs.

Tires wear longer because cushioned against hammering blows. Light weight means marked economy in gas, oil and running expense.

Overland 4's equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting to Demountable Rims.

Come in and see this remarkable car. Ask for booklet. Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $845; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

NOW WALK WITH FRAULEINS

Order Prohibiting Fraternization by Soldiers is Revoked by Maj. Gen. Allen.

Coblenz.—The army regulation prohibiting American officers and soldiers from fraternizing with Germans has been revoked in an order issued by Maj. Gen. Allen.

The rule against fraternizing became effective in December soon after Maj. Gen. Dickson and the American army of occupation reached the Rhine. The British and French are reported to have lifted their ban several months ago.

For the last month the regulation in the America area had not been strictly enforced and there has been considerable promiscuous fraternizing with German girls.

The revocation of the fraternizing order in no way affects the regulation prohibiting American soldiers from marrying German women.

SEARCH LEADS TO GRAVE

Girl Finds Father Who Disappeared Ten Years Ago Is Dead.

Florence Fewque's ten-year search for her father has ended. She is a thirteen-year-old Marietta, O., girl.

This week she found her long missing father when letters from friends in Lorain informed her of her father's death in Wyandotte, Mich. The girl's mother died a year after she was born. She wrote to Detective David Beatty telling him she had learned her father, John Fewque, was living at Lorain, Ohio. Beatty published the letter in a newspaper and Mrs. Fewque, an aunt of the girl, and her grandfather, Samuel Fewque, read it.

They told the girl her father had died after he left Lorain ten years ago. Miss Fewque has been offered a home with her relatives.

RUBBER TUBE AND RIM FOUND IN BOY'S CHEST

Indiana Lad Had Complained of Pain and Physicians Were Puzzled.

Richard Lynch, aged five, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Lynch, near Summitville, Ind., has suffered constant pain in his chest since he had double pneumonia more than a year ago. At that time he underwent an operation for relief to his lungs. Some of the physicians who examined the lad in recent months decided his lungs were no longer affected and that he did not have heart disease.

One physician recommended that the boy should give him lungs vigorous exercise daily. The exercise apparatus as rigged up at his home was made of an inner tube of an automobile tire, and his parents had him to blow up the tube frequently. The boy had fallen in this exercise during the last few days because of great pain that followed.

Dr. Will Moore, of Muncie, and Dr. Roscoe Besson, both formerly of Summitville, finally made an X-ray examination which disclosed a foreign substance near the heart. An operation performed Wednesday, disclosed a rubber tube one and one-half inches long and one-half inch in diameter, with a large safety pin attached cross-wise at one end of the tube.

It rested between the left lung and the heart. Then it was revealed that the tube had been inserted in the incision for the first operation to provide drainage. A nurse recalled that once when she dressed the incision she noticed the drainage tube was missing. She supposed that it had fallen into the lad's clothing and been lost.

The operation for removal of the tube and pin was so delicate that there is some doubt as to the lad's recovery, because of his weakened condition for several months.

AIR ROUTES ARE CROWDED

Passenger Plane Ticket Offices in Great Britain Are Besieged by Patrons.

London.—That passengers are eagerly awaiting the establishment of air-plane routes to distant points in the British empire is shown by the requests for tickets received by a company which operates an airplane line from Folkestone to Paris.

On the day when the service opened, the office of the company was besieged by inquiries seeking bookings for all parts of the world. One wanted to make a trip to Venice and another demanded a ticket to Cairo.

Persons with relatives or interests in India have made numerous inquiries to learn how soon it will be possible for them to go there by airplane.

DRAWING TEACHERS CONFER

Twenty instructors of Otsego and Delaware Counties meet in High School—Representatives of State Education Department Present.

A well attended, profitable and enjoyable conference of the drawing teachers of the leading schools of Otsego and Delaware counties was held yesterday morning and afternoon at the High School building on Academy street. There were 20 drawing teachers present, and much interest was manifested in the work, which was under the direction of Leon L. Winslow, especially in drawing and industrial education of the State Education Department, who discussed and explained the proposed new courses of study in drawing in the public schools, outlined a course of study for the first six grades, and spoke upon the work of the Junior and Senior High schools.

Mr. Winslow brought with him a large exhibit of drawings made in the different High schools throughout the state.
